

Winner 2015

Avijit Shastri

Divisional Manager – Channel HR
Tata Motors

The question “what drives people?” always intrigued Avijit. Since his college days, he would marvel at how ordinary people in a team would often come out with extraordinary solutions to a lot of complex problems. This curiosity has led him to where he is today – with HR.

An XLRI alumnus, Avijit believes in the inclusive style of leadership, and aims to use his experience gained during his career to enhance employability and skill development in the country. This Award is a huge confidence booster which will help him to uphold in his conviction and beliefs in HR.

Copyright © 2025 People Matters Media Pvt. Ltd. All rights reserved.

Leadership

Yes, They Are In The List of 2015! India's 16 new emerging HR leaders

Shalini Sengupta

23 January 2016 | Updated on 7 March 2019

Bookmark Facebook LinkedIn Twitter

WhatsApp Google+

Take a sneak peak in the winners profiles and read what they had to say about winning this Award by People Matters & DDI.

They applied, went through rigorous assessments, tests and interviews – to finally emerge as the winners of the Are You In The List 2015. The process which started 8 months back saw 2200 applications which made it difficult for the Jury to select the final 16. It was something

This web-site uses cookies to ensure you get the best experience on our web-site. By continuing you're agreeing our Terms & Conditions & Privacy Policy

